The Logo

Logomark construction

The branding initiative began with a deliberate and thoughtful design process aimed at creating a visual identity that embodies the harmonious integration of two distinct organizations.

To achieve this, the concept of combining the letters 'M' and '4' was conceived, resulting in a distinctive emblem that communicates the unity and coherence of the two companies.

This unique visual identity serves as a powerful representation of the shared values and goals that unite the organization, and serves to strengthen the brand's image in the marketplace.

Master logo

The master logo has been thoughtfully designed to ensure the angles and geometric forms are expertly crafted. As the primary identifier of the brand, it is essential to treat the master logo with great care and precision in its usage.

We urge you to use this symbol mindfully, taking into account the full scope of its significance and meaning to the brand.

By doing so, you will help to preserve the integrity and consistency of the brand, and maintain its distinct visual identity in the marketplace.

Logo clear space guidance

Allowing clear space around our logo is vital to retain clarity and brand integrity.

This clear space is the M42 logo height and responds to the scaling up and down in size. This guidance specifies the minimum clear space allowed.

However, it's preferable to give the logo as much room as possible when applying it within communications materials.

Color palette

Brand color

Our brand color palette consists of 2 primary colors and 3 secondary colors that are integral to the visual identity of M42

These colors have been carefully selected to reflect the essence of our brand and communicate our values and mission to the world.

To ensure consistency and maintain the integrity of our brand, we strongly encourage the frequent and intentional use of these 2 primary colors in all rand-related materials.

Primary colors

Secondary colors

Color weightage

Consistency is key when it comes to branding, and a major part of this is maintaining a consistent color scheme across all visual and presentation projects based from our color weightage.

For our brand, the primary colors to keep are Firefly and Pelorous. These colors carry specific weightage and represent our brand identity, and should be used regularly in all visual materials such as charts, infographics, and other visual artworks.

By adhering to a consistent color scheme, we can build a strong and recognizable brand that resonates with our audience and conveys a sense of professionalism and attention to detail.

Logo tints

To provide flexibility and visual interest in our brand materials, we allow the use of tinted shades of our primary brand colors. These subtle variations can be used to create a sense of hierarchy and differentiation between information, particularly in cases where data is being presented.

By incorporating these tinted shades thoughtfully and deliberately, we can enhance the clarity and impact of our brand messaging while maintaining the overall integrity and consistency of the brand identity.

Data visualization

To ensure clarity and distinction in data visualization, a palette of tertiary colors specifically for use in graphs and charts has been introduced. These colors have been carefully selected to complement our primary and secondary brand palette while providing additional flexibility for presenting complex information.

By applying these tertiary colors in a structured and intentional manner, readability is enhanced, data differentiation is improved, and visual harmony is maintained across all branded materials. This approach allows us to present insights effectively while upholding the consistency and integrity of our brand identity.

Typography

Primary english font

Our primary English typeface is Poppins, and we use all of its available weights to create a consistent and impactful brand identity.

The light and regular weights are ideal for body text and general use.

Medium and semibold weights can be used for headings, subheadings, and other important text elements.

For bolder, more impactful designs, we recommend using the bold and extrabold weights for titles, headlines, and other attention-grabbing elements.

Poppins font is free, you can download it here via google fonts:

خلافاً للاعتقاد السائد فإن لوريم إيبسوم ليس نصاً عشوائياً، بل إن له جذور في الأدب اللاتيني الكلاسيكي منذ العام ٤٠ قبل الميلاد، مما يجعله أكثر من عام في القدم. قام البروفيسور "ريتشارد ماك لينتوك" وهو بروفييسور اللغة اللاتينية في جامعة هامبدن-سيدني في فيرجينيا بالبحث عن أصول كلمة لاتينية غامضة في نص لوريم إيبسوم وهي، وخلال تتبعه لهذه الكلمة في الأدب اللاتيني اكتشف المصدر الغير قابل للشك، فلقد اتضح أن كلمات نص لوريم إيبسوم تأتي من الأقسام من كتاب "حول أقاصي الخير والشر" للمفكر والذي كتبه في عام ٤٠ قبل الميلاد.

Visual treatment

Imagery

We believe that high-quality imagery is an essential component of our brand messaging, and as such, we strongly encourage the use of professional photography in all our materials.

While stock imagery can be useful in certain situations, it is important to use them sparingly and thoughtfully to avoid a generic or impersonal appearance.

By prioritizing the use of professional photography, we can create a more authentic and engaging visual experience for our audience, while also maintaining the overall quality and consistency of M42's brand identity.

Imagery

Want to avoid

It is critical to avoid the common pitfalls of stock photography. In this category, No doom and gloom. Avoid dark lighting and silhouettes.

No overly cool tones, heavily conceptual images or clichés. Avoid fake or exaggerated expressions and poses.

Graphic device

To extend the visual language, we've created an abstract pattern using shapes that extracted from the main core logo, M42.

This graphic device serves as a versatile and eye-catching element that can be applied across a wide range of creative materials and artworks. By incorporating this pattern into designs, we can reinforce our brand's identity and create a consistent look and feel.

Whether used as a background or a subtle accent, this graphic device adds depth and interest to our brand's visual language, helping to establish a memorable and recognizable presence.

Grid structures

Divisions of two

The 2x Grid concept is based on dividing surfaces, 3-D objects, and architecture into divisions of two. This creates a useful grid system that can aid in organizing space.

By dividing your space into 2, 4, 8, 16, 32, or 64 columns, you can establish a foundation for this system. The purpose of this grid system is to help you make decisions and organize your content effectively.

Grid structures

Constructing grid

When working with a grid structure system, it's crucial to keep the grid divisible by two. This is because a grid that is divisible by two creates a more balanced and harmonious design while also making it easier to adapt and scale for various applications.

Margins: Are useful when you need to separate content from the canvas boundaries. Adding margins can help create a more organized and polished look to your design.

Columns and Rows: Played a crucial role in creating a structured layout. You can choose between 1, 2, 4, 8, and 16 divisions depending on your design needs.

Gutters: Are used to add additional space between columns and rows to separate content. When using gutters, it's important to align text to the gutter lines rather than the canvas divisions to create a cleaner and more cohesive look.
